The guru's long-standing study and communion with this powerful scripture will afford students the opportunity to imbibe rare expressions of Indian Dharma and Nonduality – straight from the Source, Herself. (Hawaii retreat will be attended by nature outings to Hawaiian beaches or hiking trails)

Memorial Weekend Retreat at Windwood Waters May

Nonduality in Vedanta & Buddhism 24 - 28

Gaudapada's Karika & Tilopa's Mahamudra

Near Stevenson, WA

The precious teaching of Nonduality is known to a rare, few souls. Throughout time it has remained incomprehensible to parents and ancestors, even dharmic ones. Religion in this world, being either fundamentalistic or dualistic, overlooks it entirely. Educational systems, even at the collegiate level, rarely hear of it or offer it for study. Finally, the world's philosophies, fail to perceive its import. At this retreat, be among those who will hear of it in two of its most mature forms available today, via direct instructions on how to work it into life and mind.

Labor Day Weekend Retreat at Windwood Waters Aug | Sept

Sankhya's Tattva Samasa Sutras: 30 - 3

Sankhya's Crucial Place Among the Six Darshanas

Within the 25 slokas of this ancient scripture, not only are the timeless principles of Purusha and Prakriti described comprehensively, but teachings concerning the nature of suffering and its origin (taught by Lord Buddha thousands of years later) are taken up. Nature's unmanifested side, followed by the appearance and influence of the subtle drivers of evolution, and other familiar but usually unsourced teachings are present there, and thus rise fortuitously for deep contemplation. Here is an opportunity to hear and study India's foundational philosophy, which gave breadth and depth to systems as mature and powerful as Vedanta and Buddhism, and which broadened the darshana of Yoga and all systems of Shaivism as well.

December Retreat: Holy Mother's Birthday Month Dec.

A Mandala of Transformative Teachings 13 - 17

Sri Sarada's Transmission & Her Advaitic Son's, Sw. Aseshananda

Sri Sarada Devi gave out practical teachings that were philosophical by nature and advaitic in depth and content. Her many devotees, some of them monastic, who came West to teach, accented the facets of Her transmission for the highest good of the world's seekers and practitioners. This retreat will center around successfully combining the high-minded philosophy of Truth with down to earth ways of implementing it into life and mind in today's overly-active world.
